

Practical conveyancing for candidate attorneys and newly admitted attorneys offered by the Centre for Conveyancing Practice

Aim of the course

The aim of the course is to offer practical training to –

- candidate attorneys and newly admitted attorneys entering employment in a deeds section, or
- sole practitioners who are working without a conveyancing typist

Nature and scope of the course

This course explains the registration of transfers and mortgages, from the opening of the file to the stage when it is finally closed. It is modelled on our training courses for conveyancing typists and covers the practical tasks a conveyancing typist must be able to perform, but it has been adapted to save valuable time.
